Annotations:

- Add Course to Plan: Adds a course "placeholder" to note that you might want to take the course, but doesn't sign you up for a specific offering of the course.
- 2023 Winter: If you want to take the course, you need to add a specific section of the course to your schedule.
- Add Section to Schedule (for ENGL-1413-WI01): Adds this specific section (offering) of the course to your schedule. This will allow you to register in the course later.

- Once you've selected your courses for the term, go back to the Self-Service home page (house icon on the left) and select "Student Planning".

9. The courses you've picked should now be visible on your plan, and are listed on the left-hand side of the page.

- To register for all classes for the term, click on the Register Now button.
- To register in a specific class, click the Register button for the class.
- To drop a class you're registered in, click the "Drop" button for the class.
- To completely remove a class from your plan, click the X button in the top right corner of the class' block.

The screenshot displays a web interface for planning a degree and scheduling courses. At the top, there is a search bar and navigation tabs for Home Schedule, Timeline, Advising, and Petitions & Waivers. The main area shows the current term as 2023 Fall. A prominent blue button labeled "Register Now" is highlighted with a red box and an arrow pointing to it from the text "Registers in ALL courses you've chosen for this term". Below this, there are buttons for "Filter Sections", "Save to iCal", and "Print". A summary shows "Planned: 3 Credits", "Enrolled: 3 Credits", and "Waitlisted: 0 Credits".

Two course blocks are visible on the left:

- BUSI-1703-FA01: Introduction to Business: This course is marked as "Registered" in green. It has 3 credits and is graded. A red box highlights the "Drop" button, with an arrow pointing to it from the text "Unregister from this course".
- BUSI-2233-FA01: Fundamentals of Finance 2: This course is marked as "Planned" in yellow. It has 3 credits and is graded. A red box highlights the "Register" button, with an arrow pointing to it from the text "Registers in this one specific course". A red box also highlights the "X" icon in the top right corner of the course block, with an arrow pointing to it from the text "Completely removes this course".

On the right side, there is a calendar grid showing days of the week (Sun-Sat) and times from 11am to 11pm. The text "Sections with no meeting time" is visible at the bottom of the grid.

10. Any courses you are registered in will have a green "Registered" message.

A "Planned" message means you haven't registered in the course yet, but have bookmarked it for possibly registering in later. To sign up for the course, you will still need to register for it using the "Register" button or the "Register Now" button.

Important Terminology and Clarifications

Terminology	Description
Credit hours, credits, "hours"	Credit granted for completing the course. Formally, we call this " credit hours ", where 1 credit hour normally represents 1 hour per week of contact with the instructor. For example, a course that meets for 3 hours per week normally counts for 3 credit hours. This is often shortened to "credits" or "hours". It is abbreviated with an "h", such as 9 credit hours being abbreviated "9h"
1st-Year Standing 2nd-Year Standing 3rd-Year Standing 4th-Year Standing 5th-Year Standing	Completed less than 25 credit hours (i.e. 25h) at the undergraduate level. Completed at least 25h but less than 55h at the undergraduate level. Completed at least 55h but less than 85h at the undergraduate level. Completed at least 85h but less than 115h at the undergraduate level. Completed at least 115h at the undergraduate level.
Pre-requisite	You must complete a course's pre-requisite(s) before starting the course. You can register for a course that has a pre-requisite as long as you've either completed the pre-requisite already, or will complete the pre-requisite before the course begins.
Co-requisite	You must take this co-requisite at the same time as the course. Note: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Usually, a co-requisite is expected to be taken in the same term as the course. • Sometimes, a course will say that a course in another term is a co-requisite, meaning that you must take the two courses, one in each term. (Example: ENGL-1483 and ENGL-1493) • Some courses list a requisite which can be taken either at the same time or beforehand (pre- or co-requisite).
Anti-requisite	Courses that are anti-requisites of each other cannot be taken for additional credit. Only one course of a set of anti-requisites will count for credit.
Elective	Electives are courses where you can choose what you want to take. Sometimes these are open electives, often phrased as "University Electives", "General Electives", or just "Electives" with no stated constraint, where you can take any course except those your program might not allow you to take. Sometimes, they may be constrained, such as "30h Business Electives", where you can take any 30h of courses from business.
Waitlist	When a course is full, a waitlist may exist that allows you to add yourself to a line-up to get into the course when space is available. When a space becomes available you will receive an email and have 48 hours in which to finalize your registration. Please see video link: Watch 'Student Registration' Microsoft Stream (Classic)
"Planned" vs. "Registered"	"Planned" means that you have bookmarked the course or course section to make it easier to register later. It means you're considering taking the course, but are not registered in it. "Registered" means you are actually signed up for the course. When you add a section to your schedule, it is only planned. You still need to register for it in order to actually be enrolled in it.

Common Problems and Solutions

Problem	Solution
There's a course I want to take, but the course doesn't have a "View Available Sections", or doesn't have sections in a term for this year.	We don't offer every course every year, and if there aren't available sections, it's not currently expected to be offered this year.
I clicked the Register button for a course section, but it still only says "Planned"	Click the Register button again, and then scroll up to the top of the page. An error message should appear in a yellow'ish box in the top right of the page. It should help clarify the issue. Common causes: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Not having completed a pre-requisite (or haven't signed up for a Winter term course's pre-requisite in the Fall term before the course) • The section being restricted to students in certain programs. • Signing up for too many courses – for undergraduate study, there's a limit of either 15h or 18h per term, depending on your Acadia GPA. • The department may require a "petition" or "instructor consent". In those cases, contact your academic department. • Still owing tuition for a previous year. In this case, contact Student Accounts.
When I click on the Register button for a course that has a lab, it fails, telling me I require the lab co-requisite. The same happens if I try to sign up for the lab.	Make sure both the course and its lab are in your schedule/plan. Then, in "Plan and Schedule", go to the term they're in, and click the Register Now button.
My Progress Report has a course that says "(Possible Replacement)" and might not be counting it for credit.	This is usually because you also have a "course placeholder" in your schedule for the same course. If the course placeholder is deleted, the error will go away. You can tell if something is a course placeholder by its name. "COMP-1113-FA01" is a course section, but "COMP-1113" with nothing after it would be a course placeholder. The other common reason is if you may be taking another section of that course, and either haven't completed and received a grade for either the new version or the old one. Once you've received a final grade for all sections of that course, the issue will resolve itself on its own.
